

MOLOTOV CALLS FOR END OF FRANCO REGIME

2 AMERICANS ARE RELEASED BY RUSSIANS

Had Been Held 27 Days At Potsdam On Charges
Of Being Spies

(By Associated Press)
BERLIN, July 31.—Capt. Harold Cobin and Lt. George Wyatt, American officers who were released last night by the Russians, said today they had been detained in the Soviet occupation zone for 27 days on the allegation that they were spies.

The two, who vanished almost a month ago on an unauthorized trip into the Soviet zone, said they had been held for most of the 27 days at Russian headquarters in Potsdam.

Cobin and Wyatt, who related their experiences at a press conference in the presence of U. S. Army staff and intelligence officers, said the Russians had treated them well but had questioned them almost daily and at great length in an attempt to ascertain whether they were secret agents.

Denied Spy Charges
At one time they were officially charged with being spies, and signed statements denying the charges, they said.

The officers said they were arrested July 4 at Oranienburg, 20 miles north of Berlin, where they declared they went to try to visit the former Nazi concentration camp of Sachsenhausen. Both asserted they were unaware of reports that the Russians are now using that camp for political prisoners.

They said they were moved to Potsdam late the night of their arrest. Throughout their detention they were kept separated and were questioned separately by the Russians. Cobin, who was born in Russia, said he was questioned entirely in Russian.

Both men said they had repeatedly requested the Russians to notify American authorities of their whereabouts.

"They told us," Cobin added, "that they would do so 'when your identity has been established.'"

Repeatedly Interrogated
Cobin said he was repeatedly questioned about his connection with the Berlin documents center where old Nazi party files and other records are kept.

"They kept trying to establish a chain of command between Lt. Col. Hans Helm, my chief in the documents center, and Gen. Clay L. L. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, U. S. deputy military governor," Cobin declared.

Cobin said that the Russians also "tried to establish something against me that would give them the right to send me back to Russia, because I was born in Lithuania when it was part of Russia."

Helm, who was present at the conference, declared that the Russians as well as all other occupying powers had free access to the document center on request.

Cobin said that during his interrogation by Russian officers some of them made remarks about the British "which I can't repeat in public."

Crash Kills Farmer
ALLIANCE, July 31.—Glenn Dye, 41, a farmer, was injured fatally last night when his car left the highway and struck a utility pole on State Route 173, near Harrisburg, Stark county deputies reported.

Nominees For Youth Week Beauty Queen Are Chosen

Nominations for the Junior Chamber of Commerce "Youth Week" beauty queen were made Tuesday night at a meeting of the Jay-Teen student council in the youth center.

The girls nominated are Joy Chessman, Lois Johnson, Joan Hardy, Connie Petrucci, Rosie Loutzenhiser, Doris Eytan, Sammae Lockhart, Carol King, Cathie Scullion and Jean Redinger.

The queen, who will reign throughout the Youth Week festivities, and a court of four attendants will be chosen by a committee of judges during the intermission at the Jay-Teen dance Friday night. She and her court will be crowned next Monday night at the Coronation dance.

Miss Emma Bauman, Jay-Teen recreational director, announced a fashion show tonight at the center. Parents and friends are invited to attend.

The girls entered in the show and each division are as follows:

Play clothes—Miriam Bauman, Peggy Balorin, Sammae Lockhart, Jackie Troll and Sally Ziegler.

Sports clothes—Joy Chessman, Doris Eytan and Mary Lozier.

Suits—Cathie Scullion, Lois Johnson and Rosemary Nicholas.

Date dresses—Marge Haessley, Jean Redinger, Connie Petrucci, Frances Kline, Lucy Huston and Helen Leider.

Formals—Gertie Zerbs, Stella Jones, Betty Hill and Carol King.

The finals of the Jay-Teen ping-pong tournament will be held tonight at 8:30 with Tom Miner meeting Rudy Maroscher.

Approaching Peak
The July estimate is tentative, Small told reporters. In explaining his June production report issued last night, but it is clear, he added, that national output is "approaching the peak."

The report showed better-than-expected production in June of washing machines, vacuum cleaners, electric irons, table-model radios and gas ranges, as well as substantial gains in refrigerators and electric ranges.

The June showing in output and employment, the production summary said, "should make a record volume of goods available to customers during the rest of 1946."

But it also strengthened CPA's suspicion that a serious manpower shortage is due in the closing months of the year.

Car Output Slumps
The automobile industry turned out only 142,000 cars in June, down seven per cent from May. But recent reports from Detroit show a marked upturn this month.

Shoes dropped, too, in June—down 4,600,000 pairs to a total of 46,500,000. Small predicted still further declines because of hide and leather shortages.

Hosiery hit the highest level since the end of the war, however. Figures from May—latest month available—showed 58,700,000 pairs produced, including 653,000 pairs of silk hose.

1. A price boost of one to two cents a can in price ceilings on corn, peas and tomatoes.

2. A possible cent a loaf hike for bread, with proportionate increases for other bakery products.

3. A jump of eight to 10 cents a pound for coffee.

4. Higher ceilings on several kinds of breakfast cereals.

Other OPA officials have estimated that clothing increases may range from 15 to 20 percent, on top of price hikes for some apparel granted earlier this week.

Also in prospect, according to those who know but who may not be identified, are these other cost-of-living increases:

1. A price boost of one to two cents a can in price ceilings on corn, peas and tomatoes.

2. A possible cent a loaf hike for bread, with proportionate increases for other bakery products.

PRODUCTION STILL LAGS, OPA REPORTS

Impending Price Boosts
Won't Fill Shelves
Immediately

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 31.—CPA Boss John D. Small cautioned today against consumer hopes that impending price boosts might quickly fill shelves and showrooms with shiny new goods.

Noting that the OPA revival act requires higher prices for many items, the Civilian Production Administration said this alone "cannot be expected to bring a flood of new goods into the market."

"The economy," Small said, "is too close to full production to allow a significant overall increase in output except through increased man-hour productivity."

Civilian production this month probably has equaled the biggest month in history, December, 1941, the CPA chief reported, and topped by three per cent the record for June, highest month since V-J day.

BANK ROBBERS ELUDE POLICE

FBI Joins In Investigation
Of Near-Akron Bank
Hold-Up

(By Associated Press)
AKRON, July 31.—FBI agents joined state highway patrolmen today in an attempt to pick up the trail of two armed robbers who held up the Macedonia-Northfield state bank at nearby Northfield and escaped with approximately $7,300 in cash.

Authorities concentrated their search in the northeastern Ohio area, seeking information about a 1942 model gray sedan bearing Pennsylvania license plates.

In addition to the cash, the two well-dressed robbers took an unestimated amount of cancelled war bonds and a few valid series "E" U. S. savings bonds in the holdup shortly after noon yesterday, the bank reported.

Cashier Lee Beers and Miss Edna Keck, 33, of Macedonia, assistant cashier, were ordered into a washroom at the rear of the bank while the two men took the money and bonds.

Beers described the men as about 38. One carried a brief case, and neither wore masks. Both drew pistols as soon as they entered the bank, the cashier reported.

Robert Vogt, 17, of Macedonia, told Summit County Sheriff Robert L. Smith he saw two men leave the bank and drive away in a sedan. He described the car as gray and said it headed north toward Bedford.

Other directors are Raymond Knopp, R. C. Lamb and A. A. Less, all of R. D. 5, Salem.

Speaker of the evening was Prof. A. Van Doren of the horticulture faculty of Ohio State University, who discussed "Apple Storage Problems."

He placed special emphasis on temperature, humidity and atmosphere as the three most important factors in successful storage.

A report on the financial progress of the association was also given.

Liquor Agents Reshuffled As Director Wars on Slots

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, July 31.—New agents take charge of liquor law enforcement in eight districts as the state tomorrow with a charge from their chief to war on slot machines, political shakedown, sales to minors, Sunday sales and sale of untaxed whisky.

At a meeting of agents in his office yesterday, Robert M. Sohngen, state liquor director, declared: "We won't stand for slots in permit places—get them out!"

Watch for attempts to shake down tavern keepers for political purposes, Sohngen told the agents. "Investigate any report of solicitation of funds. They will be prosecuted."

Ralph Kittle of the Akron district, under suspension until Aug. 23 for statements regarding a recent raid that netted 43 slot machines in 16 Trumbull county liquor spots, will be transferred to Dayton where he will, at the end of his suspension, succeed an acting agent-in-charge.

The other transfers, effective Aug. 1, are:

From Portsmouth to Toledo district—O. J. Kline;

Toledo to Sandusky—Owen T. Conway;

Sandusky to Canton—Robert Coffey;

Dayton to Cincinnati—Lou Pickrel;

Cincinnati to Portsmouth—William Hopper;

Cleveland to Akron—Maynard Kimball.

Train Rips Off Front Of Car; Driver Unhurt

EAST PALESTINE, July 31.—William Johnson, 77, local insurance man, narrowly escaped death at 8:15 a. m. today when the front end of the auto was clipped off by an east-bound Pennsylvania streamliner at the James St. railroad crossing.

Johnson, who had just stopped at the crossing for a west-bound train, pulled onto the tracks without seeing the speeding Chicago to New York special and remained in the car as the train tore off the front end almost up to the driver's seat.

Johnson was unscratched. The train stopped for nearly 20 minutes after the accident so that the track could be cleared.

DRIVER HURT AS CAR HITS CULVERT

William G. Gaston, 45, of R. D. 1, Rogers, suffered a possible fractured skull and face lacerations at 6:35 p. m. Tuesday on Route 7, a mile south of Rogers, when he lost control of his car, state highway patrolmen reported.

Gaston told patrolmen his car left the road and struck a culvert. The auto was demolished. Gaston was taken to the East Liverpool City hospital.

A car driven by Mrs. Bernice Sullivan, 38, of Youngstown, skidded on the wet pavement of Route 62, a mile north of Salem, at 9:45 a. m. Tuesday and overturned, patrolmen said. She was uninjured.

Patrol arrests Monday resulted in three fines in district courts.

Clark Greer, 31, of Alliance, was fined $10 and costs by Municipal Judge Harry Wykoff at Alliance, on a charge of driving without an operator's permit.

Harold Roberts, 21, of Youngstown, was fined $20 and costs by Mayor Hugh Dickson of Canfield on a charge of reckless operation.

Edwin Gorsuch, 18, of Youngstown, had his $10 fine suspended by Mayor Dickson when arraigned on a charge of permitting an unlicensed driver to operate his car. He paid the costs and was released on probation, patrolmen said.

Street Resurface Work Is Underway

Service Director Frank K. Wilson reported today that surface treatment work on W. Seventh st., between N. Ellsworth ave. and Jennings ave. was completed yesterday while progress continued today on the treatment of 10 other sections of city streets.

The City Asphalt and Paving Co. of Youngstown has contracted to do the work. Work began today on W. Fifth st., between Ellsworth and Jennings, Wilson said.

The surface treating program is part of a city-wide street improvement plan initiated by city council's streets, alleys and sidewalks committee. All of the treatment applications should be finished within a week, Wilson said.

He indicated that paving and resurfacing work on Ohio ave., between Franklin and E. State streets, and E. Third, between Lincoln and Ellsworth would follow the projects now under way.

Need More School Buses In Ohio For Fall Term

COLUMBUS, July 31.—Ohio schools—able to obtain only 190 new buses since Jan. 1—need 950 more for the opening of the fall term five weeks hence, the State Department of Education estimated today.

Because manufacturers are making so few deliveries (nine in Ohio during July), Dr. Clyde Hissong, state director of education, notified school superintendents and school bus distributors yesterday that the state department will grant no new requests for school buses during August and September.

When the state highway patrol makes its annual inspection of school buses in September, the shortage of vehicles may become even more acute. Last year the patrol put 425 of 6,165 school buses on the "dead line" to be repaired and re-inspected before use.

CALLS NATION A THREAT TO WORLD PEACE

Russian Secretary Joins Byrnes In Fight To Set Voting Rule

(By Associated Press)
PARIS, July 31.—Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, in a speech to the Paris peace conference today, called upon "democratic countries of the world to put an end to the Franco regime of Spain."

"It is impossible to safeguard peace," said Molotov, "unless Fascism is destroyed."

The Soviet minister spoke after an appearance before the conference rules committee at which he fought to establish a two-thirds majority voting rule for the conference of 21 nations, because, he said, "if all decisions were by simple majority the U.S.S.R. would be sure to find itself always in the minority."

Gets Byrnes Support On Voting
He found qualified support in his fight in U. S. Secretary of State Byrnes, who, an American informant said, will propose tomorrow that a two-thirds majority vote be necessary for approval of essential and substantive matters.

Addressing the conference, called to confer on the peace that is to be written in Europe with Italy, Romania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Finland, Molotov said:

"If we have still to deal with the question of the Fascist regime in Spain, then the time must not be too distant when democratic countries will be able to help the Spanish people who groan under Franco's regime to put an end to this survival bred by Hitler and Mussolini which is dangerous to the cause of peace."

"It still remains to deal with the Fascist regime in Spain," he continued. "It is in the interest of freedom loving peoples to demand action against Fascism."

Punishment For Satellites
Fascism, he said, was the "most dangerous aggressor of our time."

Referring to the draft treaties for the former enemy states under consideration by the conference, Molotov spoke mostly in generalities. He declared in his 16-minute speech that he sympathized with Germany's satellites but "they must not go unpunished."

He said they were being asked to pay only a part of the damage they had inflicted and that the Soviet union was opposed to any outside interference that would hamper their economic recovery.

He said "we cannot overlook the fact that at present the decisions of the council of foreign ministers are assailed by all sorts of reactionary elements who are stuffed with absurd anti-soviet prejudices and who base their calculations on the frustration of the cooperation among the great powers."

Making his first public official conference pronouncement, the Soviet foreign minister told a meeting of the rules committee, "this simple majority" naturally would place the Anglo-Saxons at an advantage because it would form a block of from 12 to 13 votes."

He expressed fear that adoption of a simple majority rule would play the west against eastern Europe.

End Of World Could Come Anytime, Astronomer Says

BY FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Writer

BOSTON, July 31.—The end of the world could come tomorrow, says Dr. Robert R. Coles of New York's Hayden planetarium. "A nova-like flareup of the sun might happen tomorrow or in 50 or 100 million years," he says. "And if it did the earth and its neighbor planets would almost immediately suffer the most terrible consequences."

In an article in Sky and Telescope, published at Harvard observatory, Coles says that such an outburst of the sun would "undoubtedly mean the end of all life on earth."

A nova is a star that for some reason suddenly flares up to thousands of times its former brilliance. Coles says:

"All evidence, geological and otherwise, points to the conclusion that the sun has been functioning as a very normal star for hundreds of millions of years. But no one can predict that it will continue that trend forever."

On a Freeze Up
If red-hot destruction doesn't appeal to you, Coles has another theory—the earth could freeze up. This would happen if the sun's radiating energy—believed to be produced by sub-atomic forces deep in the sun's interior—should give out.

"It appears," says Coles, "that this radiation will probably continue for thousands of millions of years. But some day there will come a time when it will stop."

Cobin said that the Russians also tried to establish something against him that would give them the right to send me back to Russia, because I was born in Lithuania when it was part of Russia.

Helm, who was present at the conference, declared that the Russians as well as all other occupying powers had free access to the document center on request.

Cotton Clothing Will Cost More

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 31.—Cotton clothing prices headed up still further today as OPA agreed to raise textile ceilings an average of about 16 percent.

This increase on fabric, the minimum required under the new price control law, is expected to boost cotton garment costs at least 10 percent, an OPA official told a reporter privately.

Other OPA officials have estimated that clothing increases may range from 15 to 20 percent, on top of price hikes for some apparel granted earlier this week.

Also in prospect, according to those who know but who may not be identified, are these other cost-of-living increases:

1. A price boost of one to two cents a can in price ceilings on corn, peas and tomatoes.
2. A possible cent a loaf hike for bread, with proportionate increases for other bakery products.
3. A jump of eight to 10 cents a pound for coffee.
4. Higher ceilings on several kinds of breakfast cereals.

YOUTH KILLED AS AIRPLANE CRASHES

WARREN, July 31.—Rocco Tenaglio, 18-year-old navy veteran and amateur pilot, died in Warren City hospital at 9:05 p. m. Tuesday, six hours after his rented plane crashed into a farmer's field on R. D. 2 Warren a mile east of Route 45.

Officials said Tenaglio, who had 45 hours flying time in the navy and 22 in civilian life, rented a plane from Warren Airways at the Warren airport, Route 422, at 1:50 a. m. Tuesday. At 3:05 he crashed into a field on the farm of George M. Corey.

Officials have not determined the cause of the crash, but said that the plane's ignition key was on and the throttle open when the plane was discovered.

SANATORIUM HEAD QUITS AT CANTON

CANTON, July 31.—Dr. Eugene B. Pierce, superintendent of Molly Stark sanatorium for 16 years, resigned yesterday, effective Aug. 31.

Trustees selected Dr. H. H. Bruckner, superintendent of a five-county tuberculosis hospital at Lima, to succeed him.

Dr. Pierce, who will move to Hudson, O., when his resignation becomes effective, was superintendent of the Michigan state sanatorium for tuberculosis from 1909 to 1925, and was health director of the Flint, Mich., public schools before becoming head of Molly Stark.

PRODUCTION STILL LAGS, OPA REPORTS

Impending Price Boosts
Won't Fill Shelves
Immediately

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 31.—CPA Boss John D. Small cautioned today against consumer hopes that impending price boosts might quickly fill shelves and showrooms with shiny new goods.

Noting that the OPA revival act requires higher prices for many items, the Civilian Production Administration said this alone "cannot be expected to bring a flood of new goods into the market."

"The economy," Small said, "is too close to full production to allow a significant overall increase in output except through increased man-hour productivity."

Civilian production this month probably has equaled the biggest month in history, December, 1941, the CPA chief reported, and topped by three per cent the record for June, highest month since V-J day.

Approaching Peak

The July estimate is tentative, Small told reporters. In explaining his June production report issued last night, but it is clear, he added, that national output is "approaching the peak."

The report showed better-than-expected production in June of washing machines, vacuum cleaners, electric irons, table-model radios and gas ranges, as well as substantial gains in refrigerators and electric ranges.

The June showing in output and employment, the production summary said, "should make a record volume of goods available to customers during the rest of 1946."

But it also strengthened CPA's suspicion that a serious manpower shortage is due in the closing months of the year.

Car Output Slumps

The automobile industry turned out only 142,000 cars in June, down seven per cent from May. But recent reports from Detroit show a marked upturn this month.

Shoes dropped, too, in June—down 4,000,000 pairs to a total of 46,500,000. Small predicted still further declines because of hide and leather shortages.

Hosiery hit the highest level since the end of the war, however. Figures from May—latest month available—showed 58,700,000 pairs produced, including 633,900 pairs of silk hose.

Fruit Growers' Unit Re-elects Directors

Frank Agnew of Beardman and W. H. Matthews of Salem were re-elected directors of the Salem Fruit Growers Cooperative association at a meeting of the organization Tuesday night at the Greenford grange hall.

Other directors are Raymond Knopp, R. C. Lamb and A. A. Less, all of R. D. 5, Salem.

Speaker of the evening was Prof. A. Van Doren of the horticulture faculty of Ohio State university, who discussed "Apple Storage Problems."

He placed special emphasis on temperature, humidity and atmosphere as the three most important factors in successful storage.

A report on the financial progress of the association was also given.

Liquor Agents Reshuffled As Director Wars on Slots

(By Associated Press)

COLUMBUS, July 31.—New agents take charge of liquor law enforcement in eight districts as the state tomorrow with a change from their chief to war on slot machines, political shakedowns, sales to minors, Sunday sales and sale of untaxed whisky.

At a meeting of agents in his office yesterday, Robert M. Sohngen, state liquor director, declared: "We won't stand for slot machines in permit places—get them out."

Watch for attempts to shake down tavern keepers for political purposes, Sohngen told the agents. "Investigate any report of solicitation of funds. They will be prosecuted."

Ralph Kittle of the Akron district, under suspension until Aug. 23 for statements regarding a recent raid that netted 43 slot machines in 16 Trumbull county liquor spots, will be transferred to Dayton where he will, at the end of his suspension, succeed an acting agent-in-charge.

Contractor Explains $2500 Check

Elvind Anderson, left, Tacoma, Wash., contractor, appears before the Senate War Profits Investigating Committee in Washington to tell of giving a $2500 check to Paul A. Olson, center, former secretary to Rep. John M. Coffee (D., Wash.), right. Anderson said the check was payment for Coffee's help in obtaining war contracts.

BANK ROBBERS ELUDE POLICE

FBI Joins In Investigation
Of Near-Akron Bank
Hold-Up

(By Associated Press)

AKRON, July 31.—FBI agents joined state highway patrolmen today in an attempt to pick up the trail of two armed robbers who held up the Macedonia-Northfield state bank at nearby Northfield and escaped with approximately $7,300 in cash.

Authorities concentrated their search in the northeastern Ohio area, seeking information about a 1942 model gray sedan bearing Pennsylvania license plates.

In addition to the cash, the two well-dressed robbers took an unestimated amount of cancelled war bonds and a few valid series "E" U. S. savings bonds in the holdup shortly after noon yesterday, the bank reported.

Cashier Lee Beers and Miss Edna Keck, 31, of Macedonia, assistant cashier, were ordered into a washroom at the rear of the bank while the two men took the money and bonds.

Beers described the men as about 38. One carried a brief case, and neither wore masks. Both drew pistols as soon as they entered the bank, the cashier reported.

Robert Vogt, 17, of Macedonia, told Summit County Sheriff Robert L. Smith he saw two men leave the bank and drive away in a sedan. He described the car as gray and said it headed north toward Bedford.

Ohioan To Seek Record
In Cross-Nation Flight

WASHINGTON, July 31.—Capt. Danny Grubhaug of Van Wert, O., will be at the controls tomorrow when a B29 Superfortress bomber attempts to set an east-west transcontinental speed record in connection with the observance of the Army Air Forces' 39th anniversary.

The War department said Grubhaug would fly his Superfort from Laguardia field, N. Y., to Burbank, Calif.

An air-sea rescue plane bearing medical supplies from New York landed at Salem, Mass., took aboard additional antitoxin and flew on to the lend-lease air base at Argentina. There the supplies will be transferred to another plane and flown to the ship.

The Coast Guard estimated the supplies would reach the Colby Victory this evening.

A specially-rigged parachute will be used to drop the supplies, packed in a watertight package, to the deck of the troop ship, which left New York July 27.

Supplies rushed by plane from New York consisted of two million units of gas gangrene anti-toxin, a million units of tetanus anti-toxin, 250,000 units of diphtheria antitoxin and one vial of tetanus toxoid.

In an "urgent message" for the supplies, the chief medical officer, aboard the Colby Victory said, "The death of one soldier was 'strongly indicative of diphtheria' and that 'other patients are showing similar symptoms.'"

Two Killed In Railroad Accidents In Cleveland

CLEVELAND, July 31.—Railroad yard accidents were fatal to two Cleveland workers yesterday.

George Ashburn, 51, crushed between two cars while working at a Republic Steel Corp. plant, and Frank Sebera, 24, in a fall under a Pennsylvania railroad freight car he was switching.

Train Rips Off Front Of Car; Driver Unhurt

EAST PALESTINE, July 31.—William Johnson, 77, local insurance man, narrowly escaped death at 8:15 a. m. today when the front end of the auto was clipped off by an east-bound Pennsylvania streamliner at the James st. railroad crossing.

Johnson, who had just stopped at the crossing for a west-bound train, pulled onto the tracks without seeing the speeding Chicago to New York special and remained in the car as the train tore off the front end almost up to the driver's seat.

Johnson was unscratched. The train stopped for nearly 20 minutes after the accident so that the track could be cleared.

DRIVER HURT AS CAR HITS CULVERT

William G. Gaston, 45, of R. D. 1, Rogers, suffered a possible fractured skull and face lacerations at 6:35 p. m. Tuesday on Route 7, a mile south of Rogers, when he lost control of his car, state highway patrolmen reported.

Gaston told patrolmen his car left the road and struck a culvert. The auto was demolished. Gaston was taken to the East Liverpool City hospital.

A car driven by Mrs. Bernice Sullivan, 38, of Youngstown, skidded on the wet pavement of Route 62, a mile north of Salem, at 9:45 a. m. Tuesday and overturned, patrolmen said. She was uninjured.

Patrol arrests Monday resulted in three fines in district courts.

Clark Greer, 31, of Alliance, was fined $10 and costs by Municipal Judge Harry Wyckoff at Alliance, on a charge of driving without an operator's permit.

Harold Roberts, 21, of Youngstown, was fined $20 and costs by Mayor Hugh Dickson of Canfield on a charge of reckless operation.

Edwin Gorsuch, 18, of Youngstown, had his $10 fine suspended by Mayor Dickson when arraigned on a charge of permitting an unlicensed driver to operate his car. He paid the costs and was released on probation, patrolmen said.

Street Resurface Work Is Underway

Service Director Frank K. Wilson reported today that surface treatment work on W. Seventh st., between N. Ellsworth ave. and Jennings ave., was completed yesterday while progress continued today on the treatment of 10 other sections of city streets.

The City Asphalt and Paving Co. of Youngstown has contracted to do the work. Work began today on W. Fifth st., between Ellsworth and Jennings, Wilson said.

The surface treating program is part of a city-wide-street improvement plan initiated by city council's streets, alleys and sidewalks committee. All of the treatment applications should be finished within a week, Wilson said.

He indicated that paving and resurfacing work on Ohio ave., between Franklin and E. State streets, and E. Third, between Lincoln and Ellsworth would follow the projects now under way.

Need More School Busses
In Ohio For Fall Term

COLUMBUS, July 31.—Ohio schools—able to obtain only 100 new busses since Jan. 1—need 900 more for the opening of the fall term five weeks hence, the State Department of Education estimated today.

Because manufacturers are making so few deliveries (nine in Ohio during July), Dr. Clyde Hasung, state director of education, notified school superintendents and school bus distributors yesterday that the state department will grant new requests for school busses during August and September.

When the state highway patrol makes its annual inspection of school busses in September, the shortage of vehicles may become even more acute. Last year the patrol put 425 of 6,165 school busses on the "dead line" to be repaired and re-inspected before use.

An Interesting Race

Best guesses are that it will be two years before receipts of natural rubber from abroad attain anything like their prewar volume. And when that time comes it will be interesting to watch the race between the natural and synthetic varieties.

Synthetic rubber, though expensive and inferior in some respects, was good enough to win the wartime "rubber battle." Now it must compete in price and quality with natural rubber in peacetime competition.

An indication that the competition will be keen is found in the fact that 334 patents were taken out last year—almost one a day—in the synthetic rubber field. These, of course, are not basic inventions or inventions based on the first large-scale usage. They are improvements resulting from ample data derived from observing characteristics and performance in widespread use over a considerable period of time.

Probably the chief reason why this race will be interesting is that such competition holds the eventual promise of giving the public more varied and abundant rubber products at lower prices.

True Confessions

Sen. Wayne Morse proposes that all members of the Senate be required to file public statements of their total yearly earnings and income, including dealings in securities and commodities and, in the case of lawyers, the name of clients and fees received.

Mr. Morse feels that the public, as a consequence of recent investigations, suspects that senators regularly receive income "from such sources as are being discussed these days in the public press."

This proposal unquestionably is of honorable intent, but the psychology of it seems a little bad. Generally a man—even a congressman—is assumed to be innocent until accused of being otherwise. Thus far we haven't noticed anyone accusing a senator of turning a dishonest dollar. So Mr. Morse's "we ain't done nothin'" attitude seems a bit superfluous.

We doubt that Mr. Morse's resolution will bet very far. But if it should, then logically similar public declarations should be made by members of the House of Representatives, the President, the Cabinet, Supreme Court and other federal justices, heads of government agencies and of Army and Navy procurement.

By the same logic, there should be public disclosure of the income of every federal, state and city official whose position on the public payroll carries enough power or prestige to enable him to exert influence in behalf of someone doing business with federal, state and city governments.

This would be bothersome, cumbersome, and somewhat insulting to honest public officials and to those who might have legitimate financial dealings with them. It would be an unnecessary invasion of privacy. And eventually, we fear, it would bore the public to distraction.

Interesting Argument

Among the leftovers on the Congressional agenda is an argument in the Government vs. Private Enterprise department which the next session will probably resume and settle. It isn't a world-shaking argument, and the subject isn't very dramatic. All the same, the outcome will be significant.

Briefly, and over-simply, the situation is this. The government wants to build some fertilizer plants and go into the business in a fairly big way. It also wants to use some of the plants' output to conduct demonstrations on 75 farms in each agricultural county, or on about 150,000 farms. Within five years it would dispose of the plants to co-operatives (if the co-ops want them) on 50-year leases.

The chief reason for this program seems to be a disputed claim that there was a wartime fertilizer shortage. Fertilizer manufacturers say this isn't so—that though there were local shortages due to lack of material, labor and transportation, capacity has always exceeded consumption.

Naturally the fertilizer people, including several farmer co-operatives, don't like the legislation which would authorize this. They say it isn't cricket for the government to set itself up in competitive business with tax money. They don't like the sales promotion of free fertilizer for 150,000 farmers, when those farmers' neighbors have to pay for their own and, through taxes, help pay for the government's gift besides.

The fertilizer people favor the experiments and demonstrations which are continually being carried on by various federal and state agencies. But they don't see why this necessitates the federal government's competing with them and perhaps driving some of them out of business.

The fertilizer industry is highly competitive. Its members hold that fact responsible for some remarkable benefits and improvements. They cite Agriculture Department figures to show that the price of fertilizer has gone down and its plantfood content has gone up steadily for the past 25 years.

There are ample statistics to show the increasing yield and value that money spent for soil improvement is bringing. But the fundamental question is whether this government is content to let a basic private industry carry on under a watchful eye, or whether the government, armed with subsidies, will enter the competition.

This question now affects only one industry, but its implications are broad. Government competition is not new. It exists in mildly socialistic Sweden. But there government competes on an equal basis, teaches lessons in efficiency, operates at a profit, and usually lowers prices to the consumer's benefit.

There is no promise or indication, however, that this government could make fertilizer cheaper or better. Apparently that isn't the point.

All a wall flower needs in order to blossom out is some sun.

For Thursday, August 1

THE RATHER critical state of current affairs is destined to a complete overturn from the perilous to the stable, profitable and enduring.

This is by a decisive marshalling of the forces, a pause for a shrewd analysis of the situation, with a resultant wise and constructive decision to go ahead in tried and tested lines, with logic, reason and sound principles as base for actions.

These should be put forth with vigor, initiative and determination, sustained by diligence, astute moves and an eye to enduring values.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves keyed to a sound and surging degree of energy, initiative and high purpose, aimed at putting hazardous or shaky predicaments on a sound and even keel, for future security and comfort.

Such basic achievements depend upon a concentration of all available resources, forces and faculties, shrewdly analyzed and directed, with unflagging attack, diligence and purpose, sustained by wise decision, firmness, with practical and constructive techniques.

This sagacious and determined effort promises rich rewards and personal gratifications of far-reaching import in private as well as business connections.

The Road To Nowhere

Behind The Scenes In Washington

News Notes Of Activities Of Ohio Senators, Representatives

By ARTHUR L. EDSON

WASHINGTON, July 31—Every day in this house of representatives it's the same.

After the chaplain has prayed and the clerk has mumbled the minutes, congressmen start leaping up like trout at grasshopper time. The one-minute speech-making period has begun.

Veteran legislators say there's nothing quite like it anywhere in the world.

The idea is this: With 435 members, there isn't time for all to be heard in full. All right. Let each talk for a minute. If he has more to say, he can have it printed in the congressional record.

Yesterday's session should give you a rough idea of how this unique custom works.

Why Trucks For Russia?

Anton J. Johnson (R-Ill.) to the floor first to say that 14,000 trucks have been sent to Russia-dominated countries. Why? he asked.

Alvin F. Weichel (R-Ohio) was curious about the $21,000,000 he said had been voted the Maritime commission.

Charles Savage (D-Wash.) came out for a balanced budget, which drew an immediate response from Robert Rich (R-Pa.).

Rich said something about "Andrew Mellon" Savage shouted something about "another depression." Both were going full blast when Speaker Sam Rayburn banged his gavel to show that the minute was up.

John Flannagan of Virginia, chairman of the house agriculture committee, said he thought this was a good time to consider the revised agriculture bill.

The house was ready to go to work. Finally, it got all tangled up in a filibuster, but even that won't interfere with the one-minute speech routine.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Effective Treatment For "Itch"

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

ITCHING about the lower opening of the bowel or pruritus ani, as it is also called, is a common affliction and it is the more to be dreaded in that it is inclined to resist most forms of treatment with a good deal of stubbornness.

Thus, a recent article written by Dr. Laurence G. Bodkin of Brooklyn may be of interest to these sufferers from this trouble because he has outlined a treatment which he has found most effective.

To begin with, the patient is told not to use soap around the opening of the bowel for a period of weeks. The area is cleaned when necessary only with a bland oil on a piece of cotton. The underclothing is laundered with a mild fine soap.

Digestive Substance
The patients treated were given a preparation to take by mouth, which contained a digestive substance known as taka diastase and atropine and phenobarbital. The digestive ferment aided in the digestion of starchy foods eaten. The phenobarbital is a mild sedative or quieting drug while the atropine helps to stop spasms of the bowel.

In addition, the patients were given a drug known as diphenylhydantoin four times a day. The drug was taken regularly until improvement was noted and then the dosage was gradually decreased. It was found that with this treatment, even in patients who had had the itching for a long period of time, relief was obtained in a few days, and within a week most patients reported that itching occurred only after each emptying of the bowels.

It was noted that the cracking and redness of the skin around the bowel was less evident. At this point of the procedure the cracked skin was treated with a silver nitrate solution.

Drugs Not Used

When the drugs mentioned above were not used the patients did not show any marked degree of benefit. More than 40 patients were treated in this way, and they had had the symptoms varying from one to thirty years.

In addition to the things mentioned the patients were advised to avoid the use of alcoholic beverages, spices and fried foods, since these substances might help make the itching worse. It was also found that those who suffered from constipation recovered more slowly than the other patients.

It would appear that this form of treatment is difficult to carry out but, of course, it must be handled by a doctor.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th st., New York City.

An Interesting Race

Best guesses are that it will be two years before receipts of natural rubber from abroad attain anything like their prewar volume. And when that time comes it will be interesting to watch the race between the natural and synthetic varieties.

Synthetic rubber, though expensive and inferior in some respects, was good enough to win the wartime "rubber battle." Now it must compete in price and quality with natural rubber in peacetime competition.

An indication that the competition will be keen is found in the fact that 334 patents were taken out last year—almost one a day—in the synthetic rubber field. These, of course, are not basic inventions or inventions based on the first large-scale usage. They are improvements resulting from ample data derived from observing characteristics and performance in widespread use over a considerable period of time.

Probably the chief reason why this race will be interesting is that such competition holds the eventual promise of giving the public more varied and abundant rubber products at lower prices.

True Confessions

Sen. Wayne Morse proposes that all members of the Senate be required to file public statements of their total yearly earnings and income, including dealings in securities and commodities and, in the case of lawyers, the name of clients and fees received.

Mr. Morse feels that the public, as a consequence of recent investigations, suspects that senators regularly receive income "from such sources as are being discussed these days in the public press."

This proposal unquestionably is of honorable intent, but the psychology of it seems a little bad. Generally a man—even a congressman—is assumed to be innocent until accused of being otherwise. Thus far we haven't noticed anyone accusing a senator of turning a dishonest dollar. So Mr. Morse's "we ain't done nothin'" attitude seems a bit superfluous.

We doubt that Mr. Morse's resolution will bet very far. But if it should, then logically similar public declarations should be made by members of the House of Representatives, the President, the Cabinet, Supreme Court and other federal justices, heads of government agencies and of Army and Navy procurement.

By the same logic, there should be public disclosure of the income of every federal, state and city official whose position on the public payroll carries enough power or prestige to enable him to exert influence in behalf of someone doing business with federal, state and city governments.

This would be bothersome, cumbersome, and somewhat insulting to honest public officials and to those who might have legitimate financial dealings with them. It would be an unnecessary invasion of privacy. And eventually, we fear, it would bore the public to distraction.

Interesting Argument

Among the leftovers on the Congressional agenda is an argument in the Government vs. Private Enterprise department which the next session will probably resume and settle. It isn't a world-shaking argument, and the subject isn't very dramatic. All the same, the outcome will be significant.

Briefly, and over-simply, the situation is this. The government wants to build some fertilizer plants and go into the business in a fairly big way. It also wants to use some of the plants' output to conduct demonstrations on 75 farms in each agricultural county, or on about 150,000 farms. Within five years it would dispose of the plants to co-operatives (if the co-ops want them) on 50-year leases.

The chief reason for this program seems to be a disputed claim that there was a wartime fertilizer shortage. Fertilizer manufacturers say this isn't so—that though there were local shortages due to lack of material, labor and transportation, capacity has always exceeded consumption.

Naturally the fertilizer people, including several farmer co-operatives, don't like the legislation which would authorize this. They say it isn't cricket for the government to set itself up in competitive business with tax money. They don't like the sales promotion of free fertilizer for 150,000 farmers, when those farmers' neighbors have to pay for their own and, through taxes, help pay for the government's gift besides.

The fertilizer people favor the experiments and demonstrations which are continually being carried on by various federal and state agencies. But they don't see why this necessitates the federal government's competing with them and perhaps driving some of them out of business.

The fertilizer industry is highly competitive. Its members hold that fact responsible for some remarkable benefits and improvements. They cite Agriculture Department figures to show that the price of fertilizer has gone down and its plant food content has gone up steadily for the past 25 years.

There are ample statistics to show the increasing yield and value that money spent for soil improvement is bringing. But the fundamental question is whether this government is content to let a basic private industry carry on under a watchful eye, or whether the government, armed with subsidies, will enter the competition.

This question now affects only one industry, but its implications are broad. Government competition is not new. It exists in mildly socialistic Sweden. But there government competes on an equal basis, teaches lessons in efficiency, operates at a profit, and usually lowers prices to the consumer's benefit.

There is no promise or indication, however, that this government could make fertilizer cheaper or better. Apparently that isn't the point.

All a wall flower needs in order to blossom out is some sun.

The Stars Say

For Thursday, August 1

THE RATHER critical state of current affairs is destined to a complete overturn from the perilous to the stable, profitable and enduring.

This is by a decisive marshalling of the forces, a pause for a shrewd analysis of the situation, with a resultant wise and constructive decision to go ahead in tried and tested lines, with logic, reason and sound principles as base for actions.

These should be put forth with vigor, initiative and determination, sustained by diligence, astute moves and an eye to enduring values.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may find themselves keyed to a sound and surging degree of energy, initiative and high purpose, aimed at putting hazardous or shaky predicaments on a sound and even keel, for future security and comfort.

Such basic achievements depend upon a concentration of all available resources, forces and faculties, shrewdly analyzed and directed, with unflagging attack, diligence and purpose, sustained by wise decision, firmness, with practical and constructive techniques.

This sagacious and determined effort promises rich rewards and personal gratifications of far-reaching import in private as well as business connections.

The Road To Nowhere

Behind The Scenes In Washington

News Notes Of Activities Of Ohio Senators, Representatives

By ARTHUR L. EDSON
WASHINGTON, July 31—Every day in the house of representatives it's the same.

After the chaplain has prayed and the clerk has mumbled the minutes, congressmen start leaping up like trout at grasshopper time. The one-minute speech-making period has begun.

The idea is this: With 435 members, there isn't time for all to be heard in full. All right. Let each talk for a minute. If he has more to say, he can have it printed in the congressional record.

Yesterday's session should give you a rough idea of how this unique custom works.

Why Trucks For Russia?

Anton J. Johnson (R-Ill.) to the floor first to say that 14,000 trucks have been sent to Russia-dominated countries. Why? he asked.

Alvin F. Weichel (R-Ohio) was curious about the $21,000,000 he said had been voted the Maritime commission.

Charles Savage (D-Wash.) came out for a balanced budget, which drew an immediate response from Robert Rich (R-Pa.).

Rich said something about "Andrew Mellon." Savage shouted something about "another depression." Both were going full blast when Speaker Sam Rayburn banged his gavel to show that the minutes was up.

John Fannagan of Virginia, chairman of the house agriculture committee, said he thought this was a good time to consider the revised agriculture bill.

The house was ready to go to work. Finally, it got all tangled up in a filibuster, but even that won't interfere with the one-minute speech routine.

GUARDING YOUR HEALTH

Effective Treatment For "Itch"

BY HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

ITCHING about the lower opening of the bowel or pruritis ani, as it is also called, is a common affliction and it is the more to be dreaded in that it is inclined to resist most forms of treatment with a good deal of stubbornness.

Thus, a recent article written by Dr. Laurence G. Bodkin of Brooklyn may be of interest to those suffering from this trouble because he has outlined a treatment which he has found most effective.

To begin with, the patient is told not to use soap around the opening of the bowel for a period of weeks. The area is cleaned when necessary only with a bland oil on a piece of cotton. The underclothing is laundered with a mild lime soap.

Digestive Substance

The patients treated were given a preparation to take by mouth, which contained a digestive substance known as taka diastase and atropine and phenobarbital. The digestive ferment aided in the digestion of starchy foods eaten. The phenobarbital is a mild sedative or quieting drug while the atropine helps to stop spasms of the bowel.

In addition, the patients were given a drug known as diphenylhydantoin four times a day. The drug was taken regularly until improvement was noted and then the dosage was gradually decreased.

It was found that with this treatment, even in patients who had had the itching for a long period of time, relief was obtained in a few days, and within a week most patients reported that itching occurred only after each emptying of the bowels.

It was noted that the cracking and redness of the skin around the bowel was less evident. At this point of the procedure the cracked skin was treated with a silver nitrate solution.

Drugs Not Used

When the drugs mentioned above were not used the patients did not show any marked degree of benefit. More than 40 patients were treated in this way, and they had had the symptoms varying from one to thirty years.

In addition to the things mentioned, the patients were advised to avoid the use of alcoholic beverages, spices and fried foods, since these substances might help make the itching worse. It was also found that those who suffered from constipation recovered more slowly than the other patients.

It would appear that this form of treatment is difficult to carry out but, of course, it must be handled by a doctor.

Letters to Dr. Bundesen should be addressed in care of 235 E. 45th st., New York City.

Leetonia To Tile W. Main St. Ditch

LEETONIA, July 31.—At a meeting of the village council, Street Commissioner A. G. Morris was instructed to ascertain the cost of tile for the W. Main st. ditch which has been an annual problem.

An attempt will be made to have the ditch tiled or more if possible of the traveling streets paved with a check-top this fall.

Several complaints were received regarding the condition of sidewalk. The sidewalk committee will make a survey of walk conditions and report at the next council session.

The village of Leetonia has received $400 as the second advance on the 1946 license plate revenue from the counties and registered in Ohio.

John L. Smith, son of Mrs. Louisa Smith, who served in the U.S. Navy, is here and has reported to his mother for training.

Mr. P. Wilhelm and daughter, Mrs. John Thorpe of Alliance, were Sunday guests of his mother, Mrs. W. G. Weikart and Raymond Smith.

Mrs. Fernan Leep of Columbiana was Monday with her daughter, Mrs. D. McConick and family.

Boyle's COLUMN

NUERNBERG, Germany — German highways today are lanes of barter and pilgrimage.

Farm wives and children stand by the roadside hawking produce, but they let you know at once that they are little interested in your Allied marks. Like their brethren in the bombed out cities, they are looking for a straight trade for such items as chocolate soap, cigarettes or wearing apparel.

It has been more than 14 months since the war ended, yet the roads are still walked by thousands of wayfarers with everything they have in the world on their backs. This backwash of battle will go on indefinitely, a restless tide of human misery fluctuating endlessly between the Allied zones, until Germany is put again into some kind of productive order by her conquerors.

Sprightly, among the bent figures that plod dully along the road shoulders, are a new war-created class — the painted ladies of the autobahns.

They are wayward young German girls who have modernized the world's oldest profession. Their beat, instead of a few city blocks, may stretch along a hundred miles of highway.

Their quarry are the soldier truck and jeep drivers. Dressed provocatively, they stand far out in the highway and boldly try to thumb down any passing vehicle which contains no officers.

To any soldier who picks them up they quickly make their purpose clear. They seek cigarettes, candy or food-supplies which they can easily dispose of for fancy prices on the black market.

If the driver isn't interested, the fraulein cheerily alights and flags down another prospect.

These "Macadam Magdalenes" are regarded by army authorities as one of their most serious problems in reducing venereal disease. Most are infected and they are difficult to catch. Soldiers rarely turn the girls in to constabulary police who patrol the highways, and the frauleins themselves have learned to duck at sight of the well-marked patrol cars.

German fields are heavy with harvest. Because of the shortage of farm equipment, whole families from young children to old grandmothers work together to reap the precious grains.

To scare away birds the fields are studded with scarecrows so dilapidated they would stir a wise crow to apoplectic caws of derision.

In many cases they consist only of sticks from which dangle strips of metal that tingle together in the wind. The clothing shortage is so acute in Germany it has hit even the scarecrows. They can't afford their usual rags.

Boyle's COLUMN

NUERNBERG, Germany — German highways today are lanes of barter and pilgrimage.

Farm wives and children stand by the roadside hawking produce, but they let you know at once that they are little interested in your Allied marks. Like their brethren in the bombed out cities, they are looking for a straight trade for such items as chocolate soap, cigarettes or wearing apparel.

It has been more than 14 months since the war ended, yet the roads are still walked by thousands of wayfarers with everything they have in the world on their backs. This backwash of battle will go on indefinitely, a restless tide of human misery fluctuating endlessly between the Allied zones, until Germany is put again into some kind of productive order by her conquerors.

Sprightly, among the bent figures that plod dully along the road shoulders, are a new war-created class — the painted ladies of the autobahns.

They are wayward young German girls who have modernized the world's oldest profession. Their beat, instead of a few city blocks, may stretch along a hundred miles of highway.

Their quarry are the soldier truck and jeep drivers. Dressed provocatively, they stand far out in the highway and boldly try to thumb down any passing vehicle which contains no officers.

To any soldier who picks them up they quickly make their purpose clear. They seek cigarettes, candy or food—supplies which they can easily dispose of for fancy prices on the black market.

If the driver isn't interested, the frauclin cheerily alights and flags down another prospect.

These "Macadam Magdalenes" are regarded by army authorities as one of their most serious problems in reducing venereal disease. Most are infected and they are difficult to catch. Soldiers rarely turn the girls in to constabulary police who patrol the highways, and the frauclins themselves have learned to

Reno-Stanley Wedding An Event of July 24

Miss Nancy Reno, daughter of Ross F. Reno of North Georgetown, and Irwin Stanley of Beloit, were married Wednesday, July 24, at Covington, Ky., by Rev. Adams of the Methodist church.

The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stanley of Beloit.

The bride was attired in a grey chateau suit with white accessories. Her corsage was of gardenias. Her sister wore blue tailored suit with white accessories and carried white roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley are making their home with the groom's parents.

A veteran of 33 months' overseas service during the war, he is now associated with his father in farming.

Heim-Hickling Vows are Heard

Miss Dorothy Frances Heim, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Heim of W. Tenth st., and Jack Hickling, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hickling of Washington ave., exchanged their marriage vows in a double ring ceremony at 9:30 a. m. Monday in St. Paul's Catholic church.

Rev. Fr. Richard Gaffney, the pastor, read the service.

The altar was beautifully decorated with mixed flowers.

The bride chose for her wedding a lovely white marquisette gown styled with a train. Her finger-ring veil fell from a tiara of seed pearls. She wore a gold cross necklace. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Miss Evelyn Heim, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She was costumed in blue georgette, and wore a headpiece of flowers with a short veil. Her bouquet was of pink roses. Robert Minamyer was best man.

The bridal party had a breakfast at Grady's restaurant.

Hold Open House

In honor of the couple, the bride's parents kept open house Monday. They received approximately 50 guests, some of them from Youngstown, Akron, Columbiana and Lisbon.

A graduate of Salem High school, the bride is employed in the office of the Taylorcraft Corp., Alliance.

Mr. Hickling graduated from Salem High school and is a discharged veteran. He is employed by the United Tool & Die Co.

After a wedding trip, the couple will reside in Salem.

Wells-Corrigan Nuptials Planned

Miss Barbara Joan Wells of Upper Arlington, Columbus, formerly of Salem, has chosen Saturday, Aug. 24, for her marriage to Raymond Preston Corrigan, E. Pershing st.

The wedding will be solemnized at 7:30 p. m. in the Salem Methodist church, with Rev. Louis J. Raymond officiating.

Miss Marie Reay of Columbus will be maid of honor. Bridesmaids include Misses Patricia Mahon, Patricia Lanane, Margaret Dumm, Harriet Morris and Beatrice Scheid of Cleveland.

George Frye of Columbiana will be best man. The ushers, all of Salem, are: Thomas Moore, Sidney Simon, Richard Loutzenbeker, Daniel Reardon and Wayne Steffel.

During the recent visit of Miss Scheid to Columbus, Miss Wells entertained her attendants at a tea at the Maramor restaurant.

Miss Wells is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin F. Wells of Upper Arlington, Columbus.

Mr. Corrigan is a son of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Corrigan of E. Pershing st.

Sarah Leimbach Wed To Braden P. Brown

Of interest here is the wedding of Miss Sarah Leimbach, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. P. H. Leimbach of Greenford, and Braden P. Brown, son of Mrs. Clara Brown and the late P. D. Brown, which took place at the home of the bride's parents last Wednesday afternoon.

Following the wedding, the couple left in their plane for a honeymoon in Canada.

Only members of the two families witnessed the ceremony which was performed by Rev. Mr. Knipe of Wayland.

The bride, charmingly attired in a simple styled dress of white linen, wore a shoulder corsage of Belmont gardenias.

Attended By Sister

She was attended by her sister, Miss Alice Leimbach, who wore aqua linen and a gardenia corsage. Hugh A. Brown was his brother's best man.

Miss Leimbach, who graduated from Greenford High school and Wittenberg college and took postgraduate work at Ohio State university, has been teaching at Canfield High school.

Mr. Brown graduated from Bliss School of Electrical Engineering in Washington, D. C.

Before entering the navy, he was an electrical engineer with Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp. He now heads the Brown Engineering and Excavating Co.

Upon their return the couple will live at Lake Milton.

Sensitive People Resent Jokester

By ALICIA HART

The girl who can't resist kidding people or arguing with them is apt to lose her friends in the pursuit of her fun.

A lot of people can't take kidding. Their egos are too sensitive. So in order to keep their egos from being bruised or their self-confidence undermined, they avoid the girl who hands out the digs.

The trouble with arguing every point or taking issue with people in conversations is that most people like to talk just for the fun of it, not for the mental exercise that they get out of it.

Of course, nobody expects a girl to agree with everything that's said, particularly if what's said is opposed to her firm beliefs. But there is a difference between disagreeing firmly on a point of principle and taking issue on every point that comes up in a conversation.

Century-Old Fire

In California, high on a cliff between Ventura and Santa Barbara, a fire has been burning for a century. Geologists believe it to be a vein of burning asphalt.

Reno-Stanley Wedding

An Event of July 24

Miss Nancy Reno, daughter of Ross F. Reno of North Georgetown, and Irwin Stanley of Belmont, were married Wednesday, July 24, at Covington, Ky., by Rev. Adams of the Methodist church.

The couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stanley of Belmont.

The bride was attired in a grey chartreuse suit with white accessories. Her corsage was of gardenias. Her sister wore blue tailored suit with white accessories and carried white roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley are making their home with the groom's parents.

A veteran of 33 months' overseas service during the war, he is now associated with his father in farming.

Heim-Hickling Vows are Heard

Miss Dorothy Frances Heim, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Heim of W. Tenth st., and Jack Hickling, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hickling of Washington ave., exchanged their marriage vows in a double ring ceremony at 9:30 a. m. Monday in St. Paul's Catholic church.

Rev. Fr. Richard Gaffney, the pastor, read the service.

The altar was beautifully decorated with mixed flowers.

The bride chose for her wedding a lovely white marquisette gown styled with a train. Her finger-ring veil fell from a tiara of seed pearls. She wore a gold cross necklace. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Miss Evelyn Heim, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She was dressed in blue georgette and wore a headpiece of flowers with a short veil. Her bouquet was of pink roses. Robert Minamyer was best man.

The bridal party had a breakfast at Grady's restaurant.

Hold Open House

In honor of the couple, the bride's parents kept open house Monday. They received approximately 50 guests, some of them from Youngstown, Akron, Columbiana and Lisbon.

A graduate of Salem High school, the bride is employed in the office of the Taylorcraft Corp., Alliance.

Mr. Hickling graduated from Salem High school and is a discharged veteran. He is employed by the United Tool & Die Co.

After a wedding trip, the couple will reside in Salem.

Trimble Class Meeting

Held At Bell Home

Mrs. W. E. Bunn conducted devotions at a meeting of the Trimble class of the Presbyterian church Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. George Bell near Damascus.

Miss Mary Frances Ressler, president, presided at the business session and Miss Shirley Bell was in charge of the games.

Lunch was served by the associate hostesses, Mrs. Bell, Mrs. Lee B. Vincent, Miss Erma Hutcheson, Mrs. Ralph Sponseller, Mrs. Bunn and Miss Lucy Arner.

Thirty-five members and guests attended. The guests were Miss Emogene Demuth of Uhrichsville, Mrs. Walter Ressler of Pittsburgh and Mrs. Frank Huber of Salem.

A meeting on Aug. 27 will be at the home of Mrs. Raymond Pollock, Beechwood rd.

Mildred Beltempo, who spent the past three days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Sano of 366 Hogan's place, has returned to Cadiz.

Wells-Corrigan Nuptials Planned

Miss Barbara Joan Wells of Upper

Arlington, Columbus, formerly of Salem, has chosen Saturday, Aug. 24, for her marriage to Raymond Preston Corrigan, E. Pershing st.

The wedding will be solemnized at 7:30 p. m. in the Salem Methodist church, with Rev. Louis J. Raymond officiating.

Miss Marie Reay of Columbus will be maid of honor. Bridesmaids include Misses Patricia Mahon, Patricia Lanane, Margaret Dumm, Harriet Morris and Beatrice Scheid of Cleveland.

George Frye of Columbiana will be best man. The ushers, all of Salem, are: Thomas Moore, Sidney Simon, Richard Leutenheiser, Daniel Reardon and Wayne Steffel.

During the recent visit of Miss Scheid to Columbus, Miss Wells entertained her attendants at a tea at the Marmar restaurant.

Miss Wells is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin F. Wells of Upper Arlington, Columbus.

Mr. Corrigan is a son of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Corrigan of E. Pershing st.

Sarah Leimbach Wed To Braden P. Brown

Of interest here is the wedding of Miss Sarah Leimbach, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. P. H. Leimbach of Greenford, and Braden P. Brown, son of Mrs. Clara Brown and the late P. D. Brown, which took place at the home of the bride's parents last Wednesday afternoon.

Only members of the two families witnessed the ceremony which was performed by Rev. Mr. Knipe of Wayland.

The bride, charmingly attired in a simple styled dress of white linen, wore a shoulder corsage of Belmont gardenias.

Attended By Sister

She was attended by her sister, Miss Alice Leimbach, who wore aqua linen and a gardenia corsage. Hugh A. Brown was his brother's best man.

Miss Leimbach, who graduated from Greenford High school and Wittenberg college and took postgraduate work at Ohio State university, has been teaching at Canfield High school.

Mr. Brown graduated from Bliss School of Electrical Engineering in Washington, D. C.

Before entering the navy, he was an electrical engineer with Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp. He now heads the Brown Engineering and Excavating Co.

Upon their return the couple will live at Lake Milton.

Kenny Bruderly Hurls One-Hitter To Whip Washingtonville; Leetonia Subdues Jaycees Outfit, 7 to 0, In American Chase

Italian-American Club In Fourth Position After 3-0 Victory Over Salem Lunch

Always dangerous Washingtonville Tuesday threw a scare into the National League's top team, Demings, but lost out in a thriller, 1-0, before a large crowd at Centennial park.

Feature of the contest was Demings' Kenny Bruderly hurling a one-hit contest just one evening after he had tossed a two-hitter to defeat the Salem Lunch 2-0.

In the other loop fray at the park yesterday the Italian A. C. stepped into undisputed fourth place, dethroning the Hunter Machine lads, by measuring the Salem Lunch in a 3-0 victory.

Bruderly, slated to start his third game in as many nights tonight against the American league All-Star team, seems to be in his top hurling form.

Faster than he has been all season, Bruderly racked up a remarkable show in the 1-0 win yesterday. Buck Jones, the lead-off man for Washingtonville, connected for the only hit of the game in his first trip to the plate in the first inning.

After that only Bill Jones, second hitter, made his way to first and that was on an error. The first inning was Bruderly's only tight spot and from then on down he retired the Bingville lads in order.

He walked none and fanned six in the exhibition. His opponent, Bell, allowed eight hits but kept them well scattered for only one run in the fourth when Emmett Bruderly singled home Bill Kerr. Bell walked none and struck out two.

Demings bunched three hits in the sixth but couldn't make them count.

The Italian-American club chalked up one run in the first inning on three walks and an error. The game went on scoreless until the sixth when Joe Nonno cracked out a homer to lead off, making it 2-0. Bill Guappone and Joe Zamarelli followed with singles for the third Italian run.

Pitcher Bill Guappone won yesterday by limiting the Lunchers to just three hits, a brilliant show. He walked one and fanned four. His opponent, Bill Bennett, gave up only five scattered hits but walked four and struck out only one. His mates committed one costly miscue.

The victories placed Demings two full games ahead of the Salem Lunch and moved the Italian A. C. into fourth, replacing defeated Washingtonville. The Lunchers remained in seventh place, 10 games from top position.

All-Star Softball At Reilly Tonight

Barring rain tonight, the American league All-Stars, led by Leetonia's Ralph Mancuso, and the National League All-Stars, managed by Demings' Al Sanders, will clash at Reilly stadium at 9 p. m.

One of the largest crowds ever to witness a softball game in Salem is expected at the affair tonight when the pick of the two nine-team leagues will band together to prove which of the organizations is the most powerful.

Kenny Bruderly, Demings' hurler, will start for the Nationals and Jack King of the Ohio Grill will toss them in at the start for the American. Bob Holland of Leetonia will catch King with Crumbaker, c.

Ray Reszko, Jim Jackson and Pat Bolen will alternate at the three umpiring spots.

Goodrich of the Class B league will meet an All-Star outfit in the preliminary at 7:30.

Women's Golf Tourney Won by Mrs. Greenstein

Mrs. Alta Greenstein, who finished with a one up on par total, won the women's tournament at the Salem Golf club Tuesday. The tournament involved match play against par with a full handicap.

Second place was a tie between Mrs. Vincent Judge and Olive Ramsey, who checked in with even par totals.

The Salem women journey to the Williams Country club of Winton, W. Va., today to play the women of that club.

WITH "LIP" DUROCHER AT THE HELM, FANS NEVER KNOW WHAT TO EXPECT

BY HARRY GRAYSON

NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—Just when the Brooklyn seemed set and rather well satisfied with themselves at Daytona Beach in the spring, barely 10 days before the kickoff, they showed up one afternoon with a new catcher, Anderson; a starting pitcher of whom no one had ever heard, Behrman; and two strange outfielders, Whitman and Furlio.

All started the season. The story of the Brooks' success has been one of one daring move after another on the part of Leo Durocher.

The latest is the Lip catching Bruce Edwards in a "crooked" game with the menacing Cardinals before 28,278 spectators at Ebbets Field.

Reporting the day previous from Mobile, young Edwards had seen just one major league game. He has less than a season and a half of professional experience.

Edwards caught Joe Hatten, another recruit whose southpawing is a bit harder to handle than the ordinary, admirably; went to the mouth of the St. Louis dugout to snag Whitey Kurowski's foul fly. In the second inning, he hit a ball so savagely at Slat's Marion that it took a bad hop over the shortstop's head and went for a double, scoring Carl Furillo all the way from first base with the second run of the inning.

Played Vital Role

Thus he played an important part in Hatten's sparkling 4-2 victory, restoring the Bums' two-and-a-half length lead.

Edwards, plucked out of a Sacramento high school in 1941 by scout Bill Svlich, finished that season with Santa Barbara of the California State. Returned to the same outfit in '42, an appendic-tommy kept him out of the first half of the campaign, after which he was shipped to Durham of the Piedmont.

The last three years were spent as a sergeant in a tank destroyer battalion, which saw 260 days of combat in the ETO. Edwards has four battle stars.

The stocky Edwards, a blue-eyed, pink-skinned blond standing five-foot-eight and weighing 185 pounds, is reminiscent of Hack Wilson, so is nicknamed Bull. He was one of 180 recruits and GIs who assembled at Sanford, Fla., in the spring.

Assigned to Mobile of the Southern Association, Edwards, 23 on July 15, batted 340 in 60 games, manufactured 12 doubles, two triples and two home runs. A total of 11 stolen bases, making him second in the circuit when he departed, attests to his speed. He throws like blazes. He is an all-round athlete, having also played football and basketball in high school.

Fat hands call for a thin-handled bat like Hack Wilson swung and again like the old National League home run king, he wields it potently from the right side. Not once did he pull away from a Harry Breechen left-handed slant.

"What other manager would have caught that kid today?" asked Durocher, tersely, after the kid had come through like a certified check for what he admits was the greatest day in his life. The answer is, of course, only a Brooklyn manager.

Durocher decided to catch Bull Edwards after talking to him for a half hour before the game. Leo the Lip obviously liked the lad's answers, the way he reacted.

"He's type," beams Leo Durocher, "pennant-winning type."

You can't tell the Dodgers even with a scorecard.

SPORT CHATTER

BY SID FEDER

NEW YORK, July 30.—Mid-west scouts report that while it's true what they say about Michigan and Notre Dame, Illinois has that grid talent piled higher than the mortgages on a sport's writer's house too.

Smart-money guys tell you that the real reason for the drop of some six or seven per cent in betting at New York tracks isn't that the interest in racing is dying out. But because bettors are giving more and more business to the bookies to duck the 16 per cent bite by the state, tracks, city and county.

The boys have been having a lot of fun needling Ted Williams about his 480 batting average against the Yankees this year. But aren't they kind of overlooking the fact the Red Sox fireman has belted the bomber flingers for a fancy 390 since he came up to the American league in '39?

WEEK-END HASH

Local bookmaker tells us he'd have laid 200 to 1 against Assault and Lord B. finishing last and next to last in the classic. Incidentally, Mrs. Gaal's New Orleans stable won just $22,610 for all of 1945.

And along comes the Dude and picks up a neat $76,850 all in one chunk for them in the classic. And how about the Dude, picking up for them in the classic. And how about the Dude picking up for $4,000 as a plater, bringing home that much hay in the classic.

Phil Rizzuto is almost ready to take over the Yankees shortstoppy again after his beaning. But there's old Frankie Crosetti out there hitting a mere .340 since he's been filling in.

All-Star Softball At Reilly Tonight

Barring rain tonight the American league All-Stars, led by Leetonia's Ralph Mancuso, and the National loop All-Stars, managed by Demings' Al Sanders, will clash at Reilly stadium at 9 p. m.

One of the largest crowds ever to witness a softball game in Salem is expected at the affair tonight when the pick of the two nine-team leagues will band together to prove which of the organizations is the most powerful.

Kenny Bruderly, Demings hurler, will start for the Nationals and Jack King of the Ohio Grill will toss them in at the start for the American. Bob Holland of Leetonia will catch King with Ralph Moffett behind the plate for the Nationals.

Ray Kessack, Jim Jackson, and Pat Bolen will alternate at the three umpiring spots. Goodrich of the Class B league will meet an All-Star outfit in the preliminary at 7:30.

Women's Golf Tourney Won by Mrs. Greenisen

Mrs. Alta Greenisen, who finished with a one up on par total, won the women's tournament at the Salem Golf club Tuesday. The tournament involved match play against par with a full handicap.

Second place was a tie between Mrs. Vincent Judge and Olive Ramsey, who checked in with even to par totals.

The Salem women journey to the Williams Country club of Winton, W. Va., today to play the women of that club.

It is said that the average American eats his weight in meat annually.

WITH "LIP" DUROCHER AT THE HELM, FANS NEVER KNOW WHAT TO EXPECT

BY HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—Just when the Brooklyn seemed set and rather well satisfied with themselves at Daytona Beach in the spring, barely 10 days before the kickoff, they showed up one afternoon with a new catcher, Anderson; a starting pitcher of whom no one had ever heard, Behrman; and two strange outfielders, Whitman and Furlio. All started the season.

The story of the Brooks' success has been one of one daring move after another on the part of Leo Durocher.

The latest is the Lip catching Bruce Edwards in a "crocial" game with the menacing Cardinals before 28,278 spectators at Ebbetts Field.

Reporting the day previous from Mobile, young Edwards had seen just one major league game. He has less than a season and a half of professional experience.

Edwards caught Joe Hatten, another recruit whose outpawing is a bit harder to handle than the ordinary, admirably; went to the mouth of the St. Louis dugout to snag Whitey Kurowski's foul fly. In the second inning, he hit a ball so savagely at Slat Marion that it took a bad hop over the shortstop's head and went for a double scoring, Carl Furillo all the way from first base with the second run of the inning.

Thus he played an important part in Hatten's sparkling 4-2 victory, restoring the Bums' two-and-a-half length lead.

Edwards, plucked out of a Sacramento high school in 1941 by scout Bill Svlich, finished that season with Santa Barbara of the California State. Returned to the same outfit in '42, an appendice-to my kept him out of the first half of the campaign, after which he was shipped to Durham of the Piedmont.

The last three years were spent as a sergeant in a tank destroyer battalion, which saw 260 days of combat in the ETO. Edwards has four battle stars.

The stocky Edwards, a blue-eyed, pink-skinned blond standing five-foot eight and weighing 185 pounds, is reminded of Hack Wilson, so is nicknamed Bull. He was one of 180 recruits and GIs who assembled at Sanford, Fla., in the spring.

Assigned to Mobile of the Southern Association, Edwards, 23 on July 15, batted 34 in 60 games, manufactured 12 doubles, two triples and two home runs. A total of 11 stolen bases, making him second in the circuit when he defeated the Cardinals.

He throws like blazes. He is an all-around athlete, having also played football and basketball in high school.

Pat hands call for a thin-handled bat like Hack Wilson swung and, again like the old National League home run king, he wields it potently from the right side. Not once did he pull away from a Harry Brecheen left-handed slant.

"What other manager would have caught that kid today?" asked Durocher, tersely, after the kid had come through like a certified check for what he admits was the greatest day in his life. The answer is, of course, only a Brooklyn manager.

Durocher decided to catch Bull Edwards after talking to him for a half hour before the game. Leo the Lip obviously liked the lad's answers, the way he reacted.

"He's type," beams Leo Durocher, "pennant-winning type." "You can't tell the Dodgers even with a scorecard."

Sport Chatter

BY SID FEDER

NEW YORK, July 30—Mid-west scouts report that while it's true what they say about Michigan and Notre Dame.... Illinois has that grid talent piled higher than the mortgages on a sport's writer's house too.... Smart-money guys tell you that the real reason for the drop of nine six or seven percent in betting at New York tracks isn't that.... But because bettors are taking more and more business to the bookies to duck the 16 percent bite by the state, tracks, city and county.... The boys have been having a lot of fun needing Ted Williams about his 680 batting average against the Yankees this year.... But aren't they kind of overlooking the fact the Red Sox fireman has belted the bomber flingers for a fancy 390 since he came up to the American league in 1941.

WEEK-END HASH
Local bookmaker tells us he'd have laid 200 to 1 against Assault and Lord B. finishing last and next to last in the classic.... Incidentally, Mrs. Gaal's New Orleans stable won just $22,610 for all of 1945.... And along comes the Dude and picks up a neat $76,850 all in one chunk for them in the classic.... And how about the Dude, picking up for them in the classic.... And how about the Dude picking up for $4,000 as a plater, bringing home that much hay in the classic.... Phil Rizzuto is almost ready to take over the Yankees shortstopping again after his beating.... But there's old Frankie Crosetti out there hitting a mere 340 since he's been filling in.

Eagles Measure Furnace 8-3 To Maintain Fifth Position In League Race

Pile-driving Leetonia's Crescents, determinedly hounding Mullins for the No. 1 position in the tight American league race, Tuesday pounded out seven runs in the first two innings and blanked the Jaycees to step to within a half game of the king-pin position at Centennial park.

The Eagles, pleased with the outcome of their recent protest over a game with Leetonia, displayed pleasure in defeating the Electric Furnace 8-3 in the other American league game at the park.

Leetonia's smashing victory over the outfit which recently crushed first-place Mullins came as a result of superb pitching by Crescent Johnny Clunen and timely slugging by his Leetonia mates.

Clunen set the Jaycees down with five scattered hits and in doing so posted his 11th victory in 14 starts, not counting the win over the Eagles, which must be re-played this week.

The Jaycee power which nipped Mullins' Johnny Zines was well throttled yesterday as Clunen's hurling resulted in no runs, only five hits, no walks and one strikeout. He was backed by ne ar-perfect fielding, might be achieved by the action of the same forces that may long ago have created it.

Would Be No Escape
The general scientific belief is that the planets were drawn out of the sun by the gravitational pull of an unknown star that approached dangerously near or perhaps collided with the sun.

Coles says "it is possible that in the future such an encounter might occur and disrupt the solar system in one tremendous sweep."

Before this final blow-off came, however, there would be strange preliminaries. There would perhaps be noticeably changes in the speed of the earth around the sun, with a consequent change in the length of the year and the seasons.

Coles says that even if interplanetary transportation were available it would do earthlings no good to seek to escape to Venus or Mars because "the entire solar system would be involved."
